Bio: Dr. Charles Petit, OSM Surgeon: Knee, shoulder and hip arthroscopy specialist:

Dr. Petit graduated from Yale University in 1999 where he was captain of the men's basketball team. He then attended UC San Diego School of Medicine, after which he completed his orthopedic surgical residency at the Harvard Combined Orthopedic Residency Program. He received advanced training in sports medicine and knee, shoulder and hip arthroscopy at The Steadman-Hawkins Clinic in Vail, CO where he was an associate team physician for The Denver Broncos, US Ski & Snowboard Teams. From 2009-2014, Dr. Petit was in private practice in Hood River and The Dalles. He remains an active assistant team physician for The US Ski & Snowboard teams. His practice focuses on the orthoscopic treatment of knee, shoulder and hip injuries in athletes of all ages. Dr. Petit is one of only a few surgeons in The NW who is an expert in arthroscopic hip surgery. He also has a very strong background in joint reconstruction including knee and hip replacement, as well as complex shoulder reconstruction. In his free time, Dr. Petit enjoys fly-fishing, basketball, snowboarding and mountain biking.
