 Plaza/Edgeset Ski Club, PO Box 2182, Portland, OR 97208

Yes, folks!

The season has started with lots of early snow. Check out our Thanksgiving Ski Safari on page 3. In all the excitement about the new snow, we almost forgot that our members have voted in favor of a name change for the club (See page 5). The big events this month are the season opening trips to Vail and Silver Star.

And don't forget to join us for the Christmas Ship Parade at Joe's Crabshack in Vancouver, Thursday, December 18,

Emilio

Christmas Ships Parade

Dec. 18 (Thur.)

When the annual Christmas Ships Parade passes through town, we'll be there to watch it together.

Come join us on Thursday, December 18, starting at 5:00 pm at Joe's Crabshack in Vancouver (the old Charthouse) on the Columbia River. They don't take reservations, so we'll just come as early as possible to grab some tables and chairs.

OUR CANADIAN SKI SAFARI - by Emilio

Nov. 27 - Dec. 1. A 5 day/4 night trip cost us only $184 per person. This was for gas and lodging. The lift tickets were free. And we had 3 - 5 feet of snow everywhere. Only Big White needed a bit more snow to cover up all the rocks. But, hey, this is only November!

Surprisingly, only 3 of the 24 Warren Miller movie goes from our club took advantage of the coupons for 4 free lift tickets to B.C. ski areas: Apex, Big White, Silver Star, and Sun Peaks! All are located along Hwy 97, within hours of each other. Perfect for a ski safari. It's still not too late. The coupons are valid till December 20th.

BLAME IT ON WARREN MILLER - by Mike

The Snow Conditions: Sun Peaks had the best snow (fresh pow-pow all day.) We ripped it up. Silver Star had baby-blue skies and tons of awesome runs. Big White also had sunny skies, but it was a rock garden. It could have used a bit more snow. Apex had wide open cruisers and steep runs. We had it all to ourselves. Nice!

The Hotels/Accommodations: The Delta at Sun Peaks was sweet... Grade-A ! But the White Crystal Inn at Big White rocked ! Huge rooms, phenomenal service and we got a free car wash!

Food and Canadian Beverages: ALL OF THEM! Especially, the cool Pirate bar at Apex. ...Oh, and the Crystal Inn at Big White, was super-nice. Also, the "Saloon" at Silver Star was good, too. And...

The Service/People: The folks up in Canada are without a doubt, one of a kind. Everyone we met in Canada was respectful, friendly, courteous and unpretentious. Truly, a breath of fresh air. Awesome people !

My Personal Fav ? Too close to call. But I will say this, fellow skiers and boarders... save a few of your vacations days and put away a few bucks, and experience a few hidden gems in the interior of British Columbia. You may never want to ski your home mountain again!

Hey, I'm just a goofy-footed snowboarder, what do I know? But, thanks to Warren Miller, I'd do it all over again tomorrow... (fer sure, eh?)

Mike, the snowboarder

CANADIAN IMPRESIONS - by Elaine

All four mountains were more than I had expected, but deep down, I seem to want to return to Apex foremost. Definitely a jeans and tee shirt place, and friendly people who seemed to know who we were. The village wasn't much, sort of cowboy hoakey, but somehow so incredibly comfortable, inexpensive, and the terrain was perfect for me.

But then again, I remember two fabulous cruisers "Eldorado" (at Silver Star) and "Sticks" (at Sun Peaks).

Sun Peaks' village was elegant, it looked brand new, our room at the Delta Resort was very nice and we had a fabulous, inexpensive breakfast at Macker's, the pub in Nancy Green's hotel. Great service from Craig, the restaurant owner.

Silver Star's village was more established. I liked that village the least, maybe because we didn't get the accommodations we would have preferred but we met a couple of great gals, one of whom may come to Portland to visit Mike!

Big White village looked new also, but that was the day my legs were trashed from that black diamond run the day before in Silver Star called Holy Smoke, so I spent the afternoon in the bar and chatted with a couple of cute RCMP officers for entertainment while I waited for the Emilio and Mike. Our room at Big White was probably the nicest, only because of the high ceiling. We returned to our car to find out the hotel had WASHED it while we were skiing... and AFTER we had checked out. Aaaah, Canadians are great. Really, I can't think of anything that could have made this trip any better!

New Club Name

The most surprising thing is that most of our members abstained from voting. Maybe that means most people don't really care what we call the club, as long as we keep on skiing. Of those that did vote, the votes were:

Mountain High = 30 votes

Plaza/Edgeset = 25 votes

As for the descriptive part of the name, people voted as follows:

Snowsport club = 19 votes (13 for the singular version, and 6 for the plural "Snowsports")

Ski & Snowboard Club = 14 votes

Ski club = 11 votes

Snowriders club = 5 votes

It is interesting to note that the all-inclusive descriptions seem to win over the less inclusive descriptions,

So, the winning name is: "Mountain High Snowsport Club". The new name will be gradually implemented over the next few months. The old name will be used in parallel with the new name for at least the next year, to ensure continuity. The logo shown here is only a first draft.

Interestingly, the one other time we had a vote regarding possibly renaming the club, two years ago, November 2001, only 12 people initially voted to keep the Plaza/Edgeset name, while over 30 others voted to rename the club, but were split among dozens of different names. A month later, when we narrowed down the field to just 3 finalists, the counts were 19, 16, and 3 votes, with Plaza/Edgeset winning over the two others, and most people abstaining from the vote.

How Emilio ended in a ditch - by ET

At Sun Peaks we found some great cruising trails, with some trees left in the middle, for a more interesting experience. If you go there, try the “Three Bears” trail on Sundance Mountain, and “The Sticks” on Mt. Morrissey. At the bottom of the Sticks trail, it turns into a road. I was trying to take a photo of Elaine as I skied beside her on that road, but in order to get her skis into the frame, I had to move over to the edge of the road.

Well, I got the shot, and the next second, my left ski plowed into the deep snow at the edge of the road. It flipped me around, and I ended up landing on my back in a deep ditch, which was fortunately full of fluffy, white stuff. Mike, very helpfully, stopped to take a picture before I was able to extricate myself from the snow. In the photo, I am still holding the camera in my right hand, and the poles in my left!

... and ending in a ditch the next second!!!

Winter Games of Oregon

Feb. 27 - 29, 2004. Neck-breaking speeds, ... thrilling competition, ... champions, ... giveaways! Enter the 2004 Winter Games of Oregon. They are open to everyone! Test your skills, and compete for the gold. Medals are awarded to winners in different age groups.

There are events for skiers and snowboarders, and all age groups, from kids to seniors. You can compete in any of the following: Giant Slalom, Super G, Speed Trap, Extreme Competition, and Slope Style. The GS and Super G are quite similar to our PACRAT races. But it is recommended that you just watch the Extreme Competition instead of participate, unless you regularly ski out of bounds and jump over cliffs.

Events are held at Timberline and at Ski Bowl. You can compete in more than one. To sign up, send you name, mailing address and email to Oregon Amateur Sports Foundation, 4840 SW Western Ave., Suite 900, Beaverton, OR 97005.

For more information, go online at: www.wintergamesoforegon.com or call 503-520-1319.

Mt. Hood Museum at Govt. Camp

Next time you are at Government Camp, after a day on the slopes, stop by the Mt. Hood Cultural Center and Museum. It's across the road from Huckleberry Inn and only a few yards higher up the road. There's usually a big flag in the front yard, saying “OPEN”.

Mike and Emilio stopped by recently, to donate a pair of Olin Mark IV skis, dating from 1974, one of the first “twin tip” skis, the model used by James Bond in the 1981 movie “For Your Eyes Only”. We took the opportunity to look around.

They have a great collection of really old skis, from the early 1900s, as well as old photos of early skiing on Mt. Hood. There are also exhibits of items dating back to the early Oregon pioneers. It's a work in progress. They will gladly accept any vintage gear, clothing, old posters, photographs, etc. But, go check out what has already been collected.

The Museum also organizes the “Ski the Glade Trail” Day, on March 6, 2004.
